There was once a poor countryman who used to sit in the chimney-corner all evening and poke the fire, while his wife sat at her spinning-wheel. And he used to say, How dull it is without any children about us, our house is so quiet, and other people's houses so noisy and merry! - Yes, answered his wife, and sighed, if we could only have one, and that one ever so little, no bigger than my thumb, how happy I should be! It would, indeed, be having our heart's desire. Read the story: Tom Thumb. Tom Thumb is a little boy who lives in the countryside and his family is very poor.
