Curriculum vitae (CV) is a Latin expression that, in a summary, translates to: "course of life." It provides a summary of one's experience and skills. Typically, CVs are longer than resumes and will increase in length over time. For example, experienced clinicians and faculty CVs can be 20 to 30+ pages in length. CVs are used for applications for internships, scholarships, residencies, postgraduate positions (i.e., jobs) and more. Curriculum Vitae (CV) Format. Read More. Do not know which format to use to write a perfect CV? There is no "best way" to construct a CV; it is your document and can be structured as you wish. Although employers prefer a shorter document, you must make a statement and, in less than 30 seconds, prove to employers that you are the suitable candidate for the position. So, what can you do to make those seconds count? 1. Keep your CV appropriate to your industry. The style of your CV should be appropriate to your industry.
