

Little Known Facts about the U. S. Presidents - 2015 - Jane C. Flinn - 150 pages - 9781475823073 - Rowman & Littlefield, 2015

The bird also knew the song "Yankee Doodle Dandy"â€”the president would whistle the first few notes, and then Washington Post would finish the rest. 26. Theodore Roosevelt. Hulton Archive, Getty.Â Woodrow Wilson is among many U.S. Presidents known for their love of golf. Wilson enjoyed daily rounds to stay in shape and relax, particularly during World War I, when he even used black golf balls so he could play through the winter. 29. Warren G. Harding. Facts | January 18, 2017. 10 Little-Known Facts About US Presidents. Ann Feeney. The history of the US presidency is full of well-known oddities, scandals, and moments of heroism. But there are also lesser-known moments that deserve recognition. Some of those moments were full of guano, shocked the nation, or had the potential to change the course of US history. In honor of Presidentâ€™s Day, weâ€™re bringing you 44 interesting facts about the American presidents. Which was the most surprising to you? 1. Abraham Lincoln is the only U.S. president who was also a licensed bartender. 2. Jimmy Carter is the first known president to go on record as seeing a UFO. 3. Six presidents were named James: Madison, Monroe, Polk, Buchanan, Garfield, and Carter. 4. President Grover Cleveland is the only president to be elected to two nonconsecutive terms. He was the 22nd and 24th president. 5. â€œTeddy Bearsâ€ were so named when Theodore â€œTeddyâ€ Roosevelt refused to shoot a US President Facts Let's explore all of the presidents who came before, who helped make our country great! Even if you are not American, you may be very interested to read about these brilliant men too. Any maybe some day, there will be a female president too? Related: US Government (US Constitution, Amendments, Bill of Rights Read more.Â He served as the governor of New York and also the U.S. Secretary of State. He was influential in establishing a two-party system. He later became an influential leader supporting anti-slavery.