

The Colors of Grief: Understanding a Child's Journey through Loss from Birth to Adulthood

176 pages Janis Di Ciacco 2008 9781846428128 Jessica Kingsley Publishers, 2008

Understanding how adults and children grieve differently. Learning how to explain the meaning of death to children. Knowing what to do when grief gets complicated. Deciding when they and/or their child need counseling. Helping their family members stay connected with loved ones even after death. For the countless parents who have tried blocking out their own grief in order to be available to their child, Robert Zucker provides a measure of comfort. This book will reassure readers that a grieving parent can still be an effective parent. He is the author of The Journey Through Grief and Loss. Read More. Related authors. The colors of grief. understanding a child's journey through loss from birth to adulthood. This edition published in 2008 by Jessica Kingsley Publishers in London, Philadelphia. Table of Contents. The well of grief. Grief through the ages : developmental stages. Edition Notes. Includes bibliographical references. The Colors of Grief: Understanding a Child's Journey Through Loss From Birth to Adulthood." Article. Oct 2011. Various dementias alter many aspects of the life and interactions between older adults and their families. This is particularly true even in a context in which the emotion is one that is expected. One such experience is the grief related to the loss of a family member. Physicians, nurses, and family members in long-term care report that they frequently have residents for whom a primary loved one, such as a spouse, has died. Questions quickly surface as to whether or not to tell the senior with dementia, how to tell the person, and how that person's response will impact the family. The Colors of Grief : Understanding a Child's Journey Through Loss From Birth to Adulthood. 1st ed. London: Jessica Kingsley Publishers. Journal. Elder, G. H. and Rockwell, R. C. The Life-Course and Human Development: An Ecological Perspective. 1979 - International Journal of Behavioral Development. In-text: (Elder and Rockwell, 1979). E-book or PDF Edited book Email Encyclopedia article Govt. publication Interview Journal Legislation Magazine Music or recording Newspaper. Online image or video Patent Podcast Presentation or lecture Press release Religious text Report Software Website.